

The Upper Hand

Whatever did you do to deserve this fall
You always put me first and above it all
And yet I stole from your heart and betrayed your mind
And now you're out to get me for wasting your time

You found my secret deep in my habits
Within your anger and rage you could grab it
In a way I'm glad that you finally cornered my schemes
Cause I've become a monster, selfish and mean

This time there's nowhere to go
This time I'm not in control
This time there's nowhere to go
And as I look in your eyes I see
I'm no the upper hand anymore

Whatever happened to the love that we had
I traded it in for easy fixes of glass
I'm so ashamed by the promise I made and the trust that you wore
And now the pieces are finally set to settle the score

Whatever happened to my innocence
I must have lost it with the upper hand

Circles (Death of a friendship)

Used to be my partner in crime
Used to be my friend
Now the status and trends of the time
Have gone to your head

When are you gonna stand for
All you haven't done
When am I gonna grow up
Where do I get off

Now we are running in circles
Now we aren't working it out

Used to be my soul full of love
Used to help me out
Now you don't even answer my calls
When I'm around you're out

Who the fuck am I kidding
It's not like it's your fault
I haven't done what I could have haven't played my part

Eye To Eye

Here's to another day raining away outside my window
Wasted away
And here's to another week working away the days in silent
Pain for pay

All our visions fade and
All our dreams are breaking
Things will never be the same
No more

All our spirits die and
All our thoughts collide and
Things will never be the same
No more

And we don't do a thing

Here's to another month watching the seasons change but I still Stay the same
And here's to another year, i promise you this will be the good one
Eye to eye

All our hope has vanished
All that spark has perished
Things will never be the same
No more

All our efforts fail and
All our ships have sailed and
Things will never be the same
No more

Cause we don't do a thing

Bodily Functions

It always starts when no-one's around
It's like a drug I hide in the ground
And then one and one alone in a turmoil
One and one the eye of the storm

It takes the drabness of my mind
It's an ejaculative peace that I've found
And then one and one our morals will take us
One and one where the selfishness controls

Oh no it's a bodily function
Oh no I'm about to let it go
Oh no it's a bodily function
Oh no I'm about to loose control

We keep the secrets to ourselves
And let our loved ones burn in hell
And then one and one it's a dangerous habit
One and one it's a scorn to you

We let our feelings cheat our minds
And these injections make us blind
And then one and one the stabbing is harmless
One and one 'till I'm stabbing at you

Oh no it's a bodily function
Oh no it's a mockery on you

Rainy Days Or Sunny Days

Rainy days or sunny days doesn't matter much
I sit at my apartment and wait for things to auto-budge
Ten minute rides on the subway and coffee's on the go
Never any money, living on a high note

I cannot go on like this

Cigarettes and empty songs, alcohol and rage
Working off my consience and stealing from my own bait
Packed in carts and shuffeled round, never any sleep
Something's wrong when seconds go and January turns to May

Coming Storm

I used to be thin and it's coming back
Something eats from within, something's troubling me
I used to be strong like a father tone
Now I'm sensing a storm but I can see no clouds

Are you o.k
Are you alright

I used to be calm like a blissful dream
Now it seems that I never sleep at all
There is something wrong but I don't know what
And my poems of love I cannot avail

Shelter for...

I hide and pray I won't be found
But they can smell my fear for miles
The scars will come and drag me out
And kill me cause I let you die

All I ever want you to know
Is that I want you

Banging On The Wall

Well I guess it's not your fault now
That we're fighting every day
I used to be the one to solve it
But nowadays I let it slip

Cause my baby she don't know me
She's just hanging on a star
Yeah my baby she controls me
And I'm banging on the wall

All the little things annoy her
And so I do them every day
Maybe some day I can free her
From the demons I obey

No no no no no no no no no no

Skewed Vision

Empty streets and cobble stone
Rain drops waiting to get into your bones
Where is the warmth now, where is every one at
The city is falling and my soul gets stuck in it's net

The sky is falling
And I'm about to let go

Wake up bitter, pretend taht you're not just yet dead
Keep yourself busy, don't let the loneliness get to your head
Who am I kidding, there's nothing left to explore
The city is falling and I wonder if I should let go

Skewed days
Skewed visions
Skewed thoughts
And skewed wishes

Even Though

Even though it didn't work I'm glad we gave it a shot
Even though we had to stop I'm glad we gave it a shot

And today's our final day and the sadness in your face
Is a dagger to my heart and a corpse in my backyard

Will the days seem more alive now
Will the sunshine make us smile
Will we find other roles
Or be stuck in this syndrome

What's gonna happen to us

Even though our cup was filled
The water turned to clouds
And the rain into is drilled
'Till it drowned our every shout

And the animals came out to see our last goodbye
And the sadness in your smile is an arrow in my mind

Manassas Love (Part II)

I hide away to mend the pain
But I crouch inside my crypt
My eyes are on the watch for thieves
They've burst and bled for long

It's been long since I had celestial thoughts
I shrug when I awake
I stick to hollow words
I know you take me for a fool

Thank you for the sugar
Oh how forged this has been
I don't need your manassas love
And your kiss

I trust the cast won't go away
It's a good trick, it's one for the books
Have them changed, take all their space
Then let them astray with your looks

Thank you for the toomb, it's nice
But I'd cheat if I needed it now
You are what we despised together
Forgive me but I think I'll sta right here

Hold on
Carry on
But without me

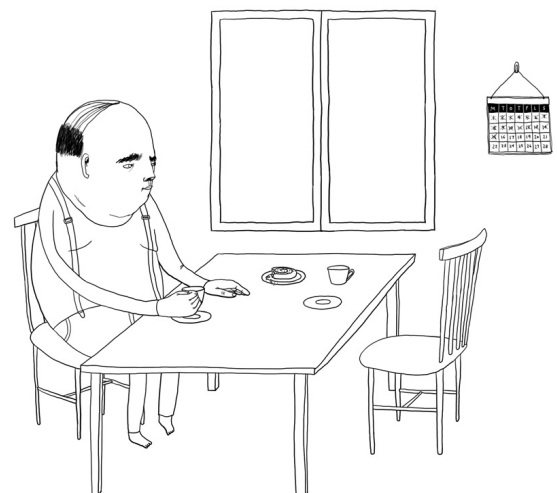

Sixes And Sevens

I offered you all
My heroes my heart
And it kills me to say
I can't have it this way

You conquered my lands
With fury, without plans
And now nothing remains
But blank spots and grey

At sixes and sevens I'm living

Like spiraling years
I'm going to waste
And it tears me apart
To see my twigs break

Banging On The Wall (Reprise)

It's like I've seen you for the first time
And all your beauty came
Crashing in my mind
And for a moment I set my slogans aside
It's time to straighten up and cherish our time

Cause you're my baby and yes you know me
And we're both hanging on a star
Yes you're my baby and I adore you
Together we're banging on the wall
